

Dr. Ismaini Zain

Senior Lecturer

Dra. (Statistics-ITS, 1986); M.Si. (Population Studies-UGM, 1995); Dr. (Population Studies-UGM, 2007)

RESEARCH INTEREST

Demographic Study,
Categorical Data Analysis,
Sampling Techniques,
Social Statistics.

PUBLICATION

- Modeling the Percentage of Poor People in Indonesia Using Spline Nonparametric Regression Approach. (2012). International Journal of Basic & Applied Science, Volume 12, 119-124.
- Designing of Child Growth Chart Based on Multi-response Local Polynomial Modelling. (2012). Journal of Mathematics and Statistics, Volume 8, 342-347.
- Estimation and Test Statistic in Bivariate Probit Model (rx). (2011). International Journal of Basic & Applied Science, Volume 1, Issue 3, 178-188.

Dr. Ismaini Zain obtained her doctoral degree in Population Studies from Gadjah Mada University, Yogyakarta, Indonesia, in 2007. The title of her dissertation is Influence of Education, Personal Value, and Motivation on Women's Economic Participation in Sidoarjo.

Dr. Ismaini teaches some courses such as regression analysis, sampling techniques, categorical data analysis, social research methods, official statistics and population studies, both in undergraduate and postgraduate programs. She also wrote papers and publish in several journals and seminars.

GOOGLE SCHOLAR CITATION & SCOPUS

- <https://scholar.google.co.id/citations?user=EGvDkWYAAAAJ&hl=en>
- <https://www.scopus.com/authid/detail.uri?authorId=55535265300>